The function of the Standing Advisory Council (SAC) on Religion, Values and Ethics

The function of the Standing Advisory Council on Religion, values and Ethics (RVE) is to advise the local authority (LA) on such matters connected with the provision of teaching and learning, under the Education Act 1996 (“1996 Act”) as amended by the Curriculum and Assessment (Wales) Act 2021 (“the 2021 Act”), either in respect of the mandatory element of RVE, or the post-compulsory education in maintained schools of optional RVE which includes: methods of teaching; the choice of teaching materials; the provision of teacher training. In addition, the SAC may advise on any other matter the LA may refer to it, or as the SAC may see fit.

Monmouthshire SAC advises schools to take particular note of the following legal requirements for RVE:

In accordance with s 375A(3) of the 1996 Act (introduced by the 2021 Act) the Agreed Syllabus must reflect the fact that:

- the religious traditions in Wales are in the main Christian while taking account of the teaching and practices of the other principal religions represented in Wales; and
- that a range of non-religious philosophical convictions are held in Wales

Please note that for religious traditions:

- the only change from the 1996 Act as originally enacted is that Wales replaces Great Britain; and
- where ‘religion’ or ‘religious’ is referred to in the guidance it should be noted that this refers to Christianity and the other principal religions in Wales

As for non-religious philosophical convictions:

- where the term ‘non-religious’ is used, this refers to ‘non-religious philosophical convictions’;
- the reference to philosophical convictions in the guidance is linked to philosophical convictions within the meaning of Article 2 of the First Protocol to the European Convention on Human Rights (“ECHR”) (right to education);

- neither the 1996 Act, the 2021 Act or the ECHR define what ‘non-religious’ means, however the term can be defined in relation to philosophical convictions as those in respect of which there is no requirement to believe in a religion e.g. a belief in man-made climate change can be held by persons of all faiths and none;
- non-religious philosophical convictions are not synonymous with ‘opinions’ and ‘ideas’ but denote views that attain a certain level of cogency, seriousness, cohesion and importance (Valsamis v Greece [1996] 12 WLUK 394; ECtHR);
- here is a non-exhaustive list of examples where courts have decided that a belief is a philosophical conviction within the meaning of the ECHR:
  - atheism, agnosticism, scepticism (R (Williamson) v Secretary of State for Education and Employment [2005] AC 246; England and Wales Court of Appeal)
  - pacifism (Arrowsmith v United Kingdom [1978] 10 WLUK 81; European Commission of Human Rights)
  - conscientious objection to military service (Bayatyan v Armenia [2011] 7 WLUK 214; European Court of Human Rights)
  - veganism (CW v United Kingdom [1993] 1 WLUK 536; European Commission of Human Rights)
  - man-made climate change (Grainger plc v Nicholson [2010] 2 All ER 253; UK Employment Appeal Tribunal)
  - gender-critical belief (Forstater v CGD Europe [2021] 6 WLUK 104; UK Employment Appeal Tribunal)
  - pro-life belief (Van Schijndel v The Netherlands (30936/96); European Commission of Human Rights)

Introduction

Religion, Values and Ethics (RVE) is the name the Welsh Government has given to Religious Education in the Curriculum for Wales. RVE is mandatory for all learners aged 3 to 16. This now sits within the Humanities Area of Learning and Experience (AoLE), along with Geography, History, Business Studies and Social Studies. RVE is still locally determined and therefore, as well as having regard to the Curriculum for Wales Framework Guidance on Hwb, all schools in Monmouthshire must have regard to the Monmouthshire Agreed Syllabus for RVE when designing their school curriculum.

It is the local authority's responsibility to monitor the statutory provision of RVE, and they are supported in doing this by the Monmouthshire Standing Advisory Council on Religion, Values and Ethics (SAC).

Every local authority is legally required to establish and support an Agreed Syllabus Conference which must prepare a syllabus of RVE to be adopted by a local education authority. The LA has a legal duty to review the Agreed Syllabus every five years.

The Curriculum for Wales Religion, Values and Ethics Statutory Guidance on Hwb was adopted as the new Monmouthshire Agreed Syllabus for RVE in (date to be inserted), following a formal recommendation to the LA by the Agreed Syllabus Conference on (date to be inserted).

The RVE statutory guidance can be accessed via Welsh Government's Hwb website:

This Agreed Syllabus is not intended to be a scheme of work. It provides a framework within which each school can best design its own local curriculum which includes RVE within the Humanities AoLE.

Aims of RVE

Mandatory RVE makes an important and distinctive contribution to supporting the four purposes by giving learners opportunities to:

- engage with and explore ultimate and philosophical questions about the meaning, significance and purpose of life, and about the nature of human thought and of the universe, and the connections between them;
- undertake enquiries and engage with sources of wisdom and philosophies that encourage them to explore the challenges, opportunities and responses of human beings in the context of their cynefin, locally, in Wales and the wider world, as well as support them in evaluating their own perspectives and those of others;
- develop and express their own informed viewpoints, which prepares them for lifelong learning in a pluralistic and diverse world;
- use their knowledge and understanding of both institutional and personal religious and non-religious beliefs and practices to think critically about their own values and about how they might make important social and personal decisions;
- explore the ways in which religion and non-religious philosophical convictions have influenced human experience throughout history, so that they can make sense of their place in the world, imagine possible futures and create responsible solutions that take in to account the diverse needs and rights of all people;
- evaluate and use evidence from a range of religious and non-religious sources to engage with ethical and moral issues, past and contemporary, that challenge their knowledge and values. This enables learners to develop an understanding of religion and belief, culture, community, their cynefin, Wales and the wider world now and in the past, which can help to nurture a sense of place and belonging;
- respond sensitively to religion and non-religious philosophical convictions and explore the beliefs and practices of people in their community, Wales and the wider world, and how these might impact their actions and choices;
- develop secure values and establish their ethical beliefs and spirituality through the exploration of religion and non-religious philosophical convictions on a range of issues, which can in turn enable them to form positive relationships based upon trust and mutual respect;
- discuss and reflect on their own perspectives and those of others on a range of issues, which help them to build their mental, emotional and spiritual well-being by developing confidence, resilience and empathy.

Audience

The RVE guidance in the Humanities AoLE has been written to be accessible to all those responsible for designing a curriculum. Those persons who must have regard to the guidance when designing a curriculum are:

- the headteacher of a maintained school or a maintained nursery school;
- the governing body of a maintained school or a maintained nursery school;
- a provider of funded non-maintained nursery education;
- the teacher in charge of a pupil referral unit;
- the management committee for a pupil referral unit;
- a person who provides teaching and learning for a child, otherwise than at a maintained school, maintained nursery school or pupil referral unit, by virtue of arrangements made under section 19A of the 1996 Act;
- a local authority in Wales.

In addition, the guidance may also be useful to parents and carers, learners, practitioners, regional consortia, awarding bodies, Estyn, teacher unions, religious organisations, non-religious organisations, and other bodies in Wales with an interest in RVE. These bodies do not have to have regard to the guidance, but it may be useful and informative for them to refer to it to better understand the content of a given setting's curriculum.

Voluntary aided schools that have a religious character

For these schools the Act requires the curriculum to make provision for teaching and learning in respect of RVE that accords with the school's trust deed or the tenets of its religion or denomination.

More information on Voluntary aided schools that have a religious character can be found here: Link to Voluntary aided schools RVE Guidance

Curriculum Time

At each progression step, sufficient time and resources are required to provide an effective and coherent course of study. As a mandatory element of the Curriculum for Wales, RVE should have equity with other disciplines within the Humanities AoLE.

Curriculum Design

The Curriculum for Wales requires all schools to offer a broad and balanced education, which enables learners to make links between the different disciplines and areas of learning and experience. Therefore, curriculum design should draw together different disciplines, including RVE, to provide learners with a coherent and holistic learning experience, which incorporates the following:

- the cross-curricular skills of literacy, numeracy and digital competence;
- the skills integral to the four purposes;
- consideration of the cross-cutting themes.

More about the role of disciplines in learning is available here:-

Link to Principles for designing your curriculum - Hwb \(gov.wales\)

When planning and preparing your RVE curriculum you should take note of the following areas. Please see below links which will take you to the relevant sections of the guidance on the Hwb website:

- Humanities statements of what matters
- Descriptions of Learning \(Progression steps\)
- RVE Concepts
- RVE lens \(sub lenses in RVE\)
- Learner progression and learning journeys in RVE
- Spiritual development of learners

As learners progress, they should have greater opportunities to engage with different disciplines and to specialise within them, particularly when they reach the later progression steps. The Curriculum for Wales guidance tells us that this process should be supported by discipline-specialist teaching, which, along with the multi-disciplinary approach to curriculum design, should prepare learners who seek to specialise further during learning post-16.

While learners should have opportunities to specialise, the curriculum must remain broad and balanced, and each learner should continue to draw on learning from each AoLE throughout their time in compulsory education, which includes the mandatory element of RVE. Schools will be expected to enable all learners to access a range of courses of study and to gain suitable qualifications at the end of compulsory education.

It would be useful for schools themselves to develop links with faith and belief groups represented locally to talk about their faith and belief journeys. Through these connections, learners develop a deepening understanding of their own local cynefin within the history and traditions of both Monmouthshire and Wales.

Post-16 RVE

In the Curriculum for Wales, the mandatory status of RVE has been removed for Sixth Forms in maintained schools. Therefore, RVE is now optional for these learners. However, this does not prevent individual schools with Sixth Forms from timetabling RVE for all students, if they wish to. Sixth Formers have the right to 'opt in' to RVE and the school would legally have to provide RVE for those learners upon request.

There are a variety of ways that a school can provide RVE for Sixth Formers who request it. For advice on this type of provision, schools can contact the RVE Partner or Monmouthshire SAC on RVE for support. Contact details are available on page 2 of this document. More information on Post-16 RVE can be found here: Link to Post-16 RVE Guidance

The right to withdraw in the Curriculum for Wales

From September 2022, there will be no parental right to withdraw from RVE as the new Curriculum for Wales is implemented in their year group. The parental right to withdraw will remain in place until their year group becomes subject to the Curriculum for Wales.

More information on the right to withdraw can be found in the legal summary on Hwb:

Link to Curriculum of Wales: Summary of Legislation – Religion, Values and Ethics

Collective Worship

Collective Worship is distinctive from, and additional to, curriculum time given to RVE. Collective worship sits outside the curriculum and has its own legal standing and requirements and must be wholly or mainly of a broadly Christian character. Parents may still request that their children are withdrawn from collective worship if they wish.

Complaints

Under the Education Act, the LA must provide local arrangements for dealing with unresolved complaints. The SAC on RVE will therefore consider unresolved complaints about the provision of RVE (or the lack of provision of RVE). This arrangement will give parents and others the opportunity to ensure the proper provision of RVE across all schools in Monmouthshire.
