6. SUMMARY: As a result of completing this form, what are the main positive and negative impacts of your proposal, how have they informed/changed the development of the proposal so far and what will you be doing in future?

The Social Services and Well-being (Wales) Act 2014 came into effect on 6th April 2016. Wellbeing and prevention are at the centre of the Act and the provision of information, advice and assistance (IAA) will ensure voice, choice and control for people in meeting their personal wellbeing outcomes and remaining independent of statutory services for as long as possible.

Part 2 of the Act requires local authorities to have in place an IAA service as from April 2017 Data capture is required for Which there are performance indicators and aggregated data measures.

Regional discussions have highlighted a difference in the interpretation of the duty to provide an information, advice and assistance “service” and models range from delivery at the front door of social services to multiple points within and across communities. As a result it is anticipated there will be a degree of incongruence in reporting and measurement across Wales. It may take some time to ascertain what good looks like in terms of Monmouthshire’s quantitative measures if comparisons are made with differing models of provision.

Initially the authority intends to measure advice and assistance from a point of delivery at statutory front door(s) but, as the attached report illustrates, this is not a complete picture of activity. Through the development of place based approaches, IAA provision will continue to be mapped and co-ordinated and systems developed which will measure both the numbers of people who access this and, more importantly, the impact this has had on wellbeing at individual and community levels.

Monmouthshire has excellent foundations on which to build but there are challenges. The model for IAA proposed, incorporates Future Monmouthshire work streams and the development of place based community wellbeing approaches.
